

February 2008

“Intertextile Balticum” – Italian participation

Many Italian companies of the sectors of ready-made garments are participating in “Intertextile Balticum”, the International Trade Fashion in Riga, from 21 to 23 of February 2008.

Italian textile & garments woman - man – kids , accessories, shoes, and underwear in high level industry has a long history specializing in serving best & fashion quality.

During the event, the Italian exhibitors invite the visitors, to be aware of the Italian fashion and meet their potential business partners in the Italian Fashion area, A welcome desk will be also operating during the fair.

For your information we are including short profiles of the Italians companies and would ask that you forward information on Italian participation to your organization’s members and estimate the real potential of business development opportunities.

MELE PELLICERIE

The Mele company was founded in 1880 by Enrico Mele, a pioneer from a dynasty of fur-making entrepreneurs who already possessed a stable business before 1880 with GUANTAI, where they tinted and worked leather to make gloves and other various trimmings. In the news at that time, the Mele Fur Maison was counted among the most important and prestigious companies in Italy. Throughout the years, the Mele company has received many important international award prizes.

ORSIRUSSI

With 20 years of history characterised by a constant research for new materials and new manufacturing technologies. Florence Mode produces today exclusive, trendy and high quality fur coats which translate into reality the ideas of successful and emerging fashion designers, carefully selected in the rich Italian panorama of fashion creators. A strongly creative spirit, together with an accurate craftsmanship and a cure for details which only expert hands can ensure.

GLOVES DEI F.LLI FORINO

Founded in 1980 by Gennaro Forino and his brothers, the company boasts one of the longest history and richest tradition in the manufacturing of premium leather gloves. Our products are entirely made by hand using exclusively premium quality skins, making each glove a unique icon of craftsmanship. Our exclusive and refined leather gloves are made using experience and skills refined generation after generation from the passing on of traditions from father to son dating back to the second half of the nineteenth century. Gloves is a prime example of Italian fashion export success combining great attention to the latest fashion trends and care to preserve the highest comfort levels of our products.

FERANA

The collections are inspired every year by different themes using a large variety of colors, made up of various pieces produced in precious fabrics for both bikinis and beachwear.

LEATHER TREND

Today it remains with to the confection of the heads in skin, main the economic source of the city irpina. Tannery and the coming from skins from every part of the world are worked, ended skins are exported and apparel in skin.

Our company much careful one to the requirements of the customers boasts tradition and experience in the confection of heads in skin every type and models with pellami of optimal quality. They are available in warehouse beyond shakes it heads of ready fashion with spot delivery.

PM PELLETERIE

The company produce wallets, belts, all high level.

MAGLIFICIO LILIANA

The Company lies on an area of 10.000 mq. and the buildings cover up to 3.000 mq. A skillful management and an updated staff are in a position to develop a qualified and high level standard product being able to meet the requirements of fickle markets. The result of this synergy is a complete "Made in Italy" product.

During the years Liliana Company has constantly renewed its technology and nowadays owns a wide range of knit machines including the latest and most updated "Stoll CMS 340 TC -Knit & Wear" which can produce multigauge and seamless garments.

RAIDY BOER

The company is specialize in high level of the total look for man in high level fabrics "the best in the world". Every season there is a new collection design from the important Italian's designer

ARIANNA

Since its foundation in 1958, Arianna srl, a manufacturer of raschel lace, has always based its market strategy on consolidating its image by improving the technology used and by always remaining faithful to its tradition its tradition of RIDIG BANDES AND ALLOVERS PRODUCTIONS. Over the years, the company has continuously updated its production lines and is now able to offer the market a vast range of both stiff and elastic lace products, including jacquardtronic.

